How the event works:

Riverwalk's Chili Cook-Off has attendees do the tasting and judging. Attendees will purchase tasting packs from the ticket booth. Each pack will come with a number of tickets and one 2 oz. sample cup and a spoon for each ticket. With these, the attendees can go around and sample chili from whichever teams they wish to. Each tasting pack will also include a voting ballot. When attendees come to each booth, they must present their chili ticket and sample cup to be filled. After they sample the chili, they can vote for the team that they thought had the BEST chili. VOTING ENDS AT 3:15 pm SHARP. The votes will be tallied and the team with the most votes will win the title of "BEST Chili in Fort Lauderdale." The winning team will also receive a prize to go with their trophy.

Each team must make 5 gallons of chili for the event. Teams may also bring baked goods, snacks, a raffle prize, hot dogs, or multiple chili (separate from the 5 gallons for competition) to sell as a way to raise funds for their charity. No beverages are to be sold by teams. Teams may also have a donation box for their charity.

Each team will also decorate their booth with a Sports Team theme they have selected. A secret panel of judges will determine the winner of the "BEST Decorated Booth" award.
