Providing Comprehensive Wealth Management

At Britton-Seymour Private Wealth Management Group of Wells Fargo Advisors, we believe your success should be measured not just by your financial well-being, but by how confident you feel about your future. Our mission is to help you live the life you want, and in some special cases, the life you thought was beyond reach, through the careful development of a custom-tailored wealth management plan based upon personalized, knowledgeable advice.

Some people think wealth management is all about money. On our team, it's about professionalism, integrity, and trust.

MAKE YOUR MARK ON RIVERWALK

ENGRAVE A BRICK OR SPONSOR A BANNER

One of the many things Riverwalk is known for is the tens of thousands of engraved bricks stretching along both the north and south sides of the Riverwalk. While many of them are concentrated in the area just west of Andrews Avenue by the Riverwalk 9/11 Monument and at Esplanade Park, you can find smaller specialized sections of brick throughout the park, some dating back to the original bricks engraved in the early 1990s.

These bricks tell the tale not only of our beautiful, urban park, but the stories of the many locals who call Fort Lauderdale and Broward County home, those who have moved away, and also many of our visitors who came for a short stay and made a connection with the Riverwalk and Fort Lauderdale that they wanted to be remembered forever. This beautiful tapestry is not just the brick beneath our feet, but the bonds that unite our great community. If you have a chance, take some time to read these messages spanning the decades – you'll likely find some names you recognize!

These bricks are not just important memories placed in the ground, but also a way to support Riverwalk in building a vibrant community for all. Bricks are installed monthly, with a typical six- to eight-week turnaround and prices starting at $175. For more information on ordering one of these Signature Riverwalk Bricks visit GoRiverwalk.com/bricks.

The Riverwalk Banners Sponsorship period is wrapping up this month, but there are a few spots still available. For more information on placing your company name or logo on one of these prominent banners visit GoRiverwalk.com/banners.

A BUSY SEASON

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF FEWER CROWDS AND ENJOY UPCOMING EVENTS

While dodging summer weather with it changing within minutes, we find ourselves enjoying the greater ease in moving around the city and trying things that are popular. Dining, parks and activities are busy but easier to get to. A passive approach to some of the beautiful areas in town and on the beach are also a must do during the summer months.

Esplanade Park is out of circulation for 30 days for landscape and other improvements during our rainy season – it always helps to have that “natural” watering provided. From Mid-August forward, look for lots of new and different events to emerge from that area. Starlight Musicals wind up on Aug. 8 at Holiday Park on August with a summer of great sounds and visiting with neighbors and friends. Carter Park Jamz at Carter Park holds its smooth sounds winding up the season with Sept. 19 and lastly Oct. 17. Summer Jamz holds its concert at Mills Pond on Aug. 15.

Fall Festival is just around the corner in October with Day of the Dead in November and Light up Lauderdale, the annual kickoff event of the holiday season. Mark Nov. 23 in your calendar for Winterfest Family Fun Day and be assured you will be seeing and hearing about a lot of other cool things.

We are hoping to see some shade structures at Tunnel Top Park soon that will help in making the area easier to use. Jazz Brunch returns with great sounds and a fun day to share with friends in the park. In September, watch the 50th Anniversary Aquatic Festival. October will also bring the first of three Las Olas Art Fairs, Friday Night Soundwaves and more. Check out NOBE for their Sunday Block Parties for the fall season. These are only a few of the upcoming events and things coming both downtown and around the city.

Riverwalk wants to take a moment to recognize the loss of two important individuals this past month, Emmett McTigue and Father Ronald G. Perkins, both long-time friends of ours and true gentlemen. Both gave a lifetime of service to the community, more often than not behind the scenes and were well loved by all that knew them. As we say our farewell to these men, rest assured they left an indelible mark on the community and all that knew them.

We always want to take a minute to say thank you to our Police and Fire for always keeping us safe. Once again we caution that we are in the midst of hurricane season and please be prepared. Have enough food and water on hand for at least one week, and plenty of batteries, flashlights and candles. Have a plan B in place if you are not staying in your home, and more than anything else, have a calling tree with your family and friends.

THIRD ANNUAL RIVERWALK TACOS & TEQUILA FESTIVAL

On the afternoon of July 19, Riverwalk held its third annual Riverwalk Tacos & Tequila Festival at Esplanade Park. Many people braved the heat to enjoy 15 of the most delicious food and drink vendors in South Florida. These vendors lined Himmarshee Street to offer their unique versions of tacos and Mexican street foods. Delicious desserts were also offered, such as crispy churros and hand-crafted gelato. People cooled off with fresh-squeezed lemonades and ice-cold cocktails made with El Tequileño Tequila, “Mexico’s best-kept secret.” The festivities were capped by music and entertainment from DJ Lori McQuestion.

Many thanks to our volunteers, El Tequileño Tequila, Storm Tight Windows, S. MARK Graphics, and Morningstar Storage – Fat Village, whose sponsorship helped make our event a success.

HONORING OUR PAST, BUILDING OUR FUTURE

In the heart of Fort Lauderdale lies a corridor steeped in pride, resilience and untold stories: Sistrunk Boulevard. Once known as the epicenter of Black business, culture and community, this historic stretch is reclaiming its roots with a renewed mission to preserve its heritage while igniting a wave of entrepreneurship and economic growth.

The Legacy of Dr. Sistrunk

Sistrunk Boulevard is named after Dr. James Franklin Sistrunk, Broward County's first African-American physician. In 1938, Dr. Sistrunk co-founded Provident Hospital, the county's first Black hospital, providing critical care during a time when segregation barred access elsewhere. His work extended beyond medicine; he was a cornerstone of leadership, dignity and community advancement.

The corridor that bears his name became a hub of Black excellence, lined with thriving businesses, family-run shops, barbershops, jazz clubs and eateries.

From Vibrancy to Decline

As desegregation reshaped American cities, many Black neighborhoods across the country faced disinvestment. Sistrunk was no exception. With the widening of the street, the removal of on-street parking and a shift away from walkability, foot traffic slowed and local businesses struggled to survive.

Loans and development often skipped the corridor, leaving behind a once-vibrant district now burdened by economic hardship, vacant lots and rising crime. But the pride of Sistrunk's people never disappeared — it simply waited for its moment to rise again.

Revitalization with Purpose

In recent years, that moment arrived. Between 2008 and 2012, a $13 million to $15 million public streetscape project reimaged Sistrunk Boulevard: sidewalks widened, utilities buried, modern lighting added and landscaping installed, all designed to return the street's pedestrian-friendly soul.

New institutions have anchored this revitalization

- The L.A. Lee YMCA/Mizell Community Center, a $17 million multi-use facility, offers coworking spaces, a Black box theater, wellness programs and educational initiatives.
- The African American Research Library and Cultural Center, opened in 2002, continues to honor the stories and scholarship of the community.
- Public art, such as Charles Mills' "Wall of History," brings visual storytelling to life, reminding residents and visitors of the rich legacy beneath their feet.

- Florida Memorial University opened its new Center for Entrepreneurship at the Sistrunk Marketplace.

A New Vision: Entrepreneurship as Legacy

The future of Sistrunk isn't about replacing its past; it's about building upon it. There's a growing push to empower Black-owned businesses, startups and creative ventures to take root and thrive here.

Affordable housing, incubator spaces and community investment projects are bridging the past and future. Programs through Broward College and the YMCA equip a new generation of entrepreneurs and leaders. Local initiatives encourage not only development, but also inclusive development and growth that reflects the community and creates opportunities for its residents.

Preserving Pride While Advancing Progress

Sistrunk is not just a place on a map; it's a story of survival, achievement and rebirth. As new businesses open their doors and old ones regain their footing, the corridor stands as a reminder: progress does not require erasure.

Rather, the mission is to honor what came before, while building what comes next.

Want to Get Involved?

If you're a local entrepreneur, artist, educator or community builder, there's space for you on Sistrunk. Join the movement to revitalize through:

- Opening or relocating your business along the corridor.
- Supporting local Black-owned shops and restaurants.
- Collaborating on cultural events, mural projects or oral histories.
- Engaging with the YMCA, Broward College or CRA initiatives.

Sistrunk Boulevard's story is still being written and this chapter is all about empowerment. @

URBAN CORE MASTER PLAN

MAKING DOWNTOWN EASIER TO MOVE AROUND

As the city grows and changes, the transportation network needs to adapt, and with that knowledge, the Fort Lauderdale City Commission identified an Annual Commission Priority to create a downtown where residents and visitors can move around in whichever mode they choose, not just a car. The first phase toward that goal is identifying what is needed to achieve the vision through the creation of the Urban Core Master Plan.

The first phase of the plan has been to collect all of the current conditions, existing plans and projects, approved developments, traffic control devices, crash data, etc. This data will be used to identify needs to be addressed today, tomorrow and into the future.

Issues facing the Urban Core include small items like existing sidewalk conditions impacted by impediments such as light poles, the sidewalk network having gaps, physical barriers to pedestrians created by the railroad tracks, the river and major arterial roadways, and the lack of convenient and safe crossings of major arterials downtown, to name a few.

Staff has already begun working on some items to accomplish the vision. Most notably is partnering with the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) on pedestrian safety improvements along U.S. 1/Federal Highway between Broward Boulevard and Sunrise Boulevard through two initiatives.

FDOT, which has jurisdiction of the roadway, recently installed dynamic message signs at the intersection of Broward Boulevard and U.S. 1/Federal Highway to notify drivers turning right on red to stop for pedestrians when the walk signal is activated.

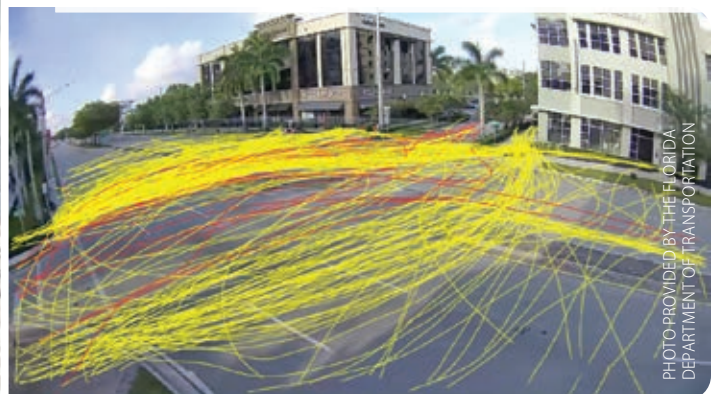

Additionally, the City advocated to FDOT requesting that they study U.S. 1/Federal Highway between Broward Boulevard and Sunrise Boulevard for the feasibility of adding signalized pedestrian crossings at Northeast Third Street, Northeast Fifth Street, and Northeast Seventh Street. FDOT has completed their study, which included a walking audit with key stakeholders along the corridor to better understand the challenges as well as data collection and detailed engineering analysis.

An element of the engineering study includes camera-based pedestrian and bicycle counts that show the trajectories of users. During the day of data collection, nearly 400 people crossed at the intersection of U.S. 1/Federal Highway and Northeast Seventh Street, and nearly 250 at Northeast Fifth Street within a 24-hour period, illustrating the significant need for formalized crossings at these locations.

FDOT found that new signals are warranted at Northeast Fifth Street and Northeast Seventh Street, as well as a variety of other short term safety enhancement projects that include updated pavement markings, signage, and the addition of Leading Pedestrian Interval to the signals at Northeast Eighth Street and Northeast Ninth Street to be consistent throughout the corridor.

The City is grateful for the continued partnership with FDOT on improving safety of arterials within Fort Lauderdale and look forward to continuing to make progress together.

DRY CLEANING DONE WITH CARE

AT JADE OCEAN CLEANERS YOU'RE PART OF THE FAMILY

The family behind Jade Ocean Cleaners, who have been in the dry-cleaning business for over 30 years, have not only perfected the dry-cleaning process but also treat their customers like family.

Jade Ocean Cleaners first started in New York, where the grandfather of the current owner, Michael Toroker, opened their first store.

"My dad always says you have to be born into this business, so my grandfather started the business in New York. Then my dad started working for him before moving to South Florida in 1994, where he opened Jade Ocean Cleaners on the Galt Ocean Mile. Eventually, I started working for him right out of college, which is also when we decided to move the store to downtown. Even back then, before everything was built up like it is now, my dad knew it would be the place to be," Toroker said.

They've been open in that same location for 21 years, and they continue to offer the same level of service along with a variety of dry cleaning services as well as pickup and delivery services, rug cleaning and even alterations done by their seamstress who has been working with the family for 30 years. What makes them unique compared to other similar businesses is the fact that they do everything in-house.

"What's great about what we do and what we've continued to do all these years is run the business as a dry-cleaning plant, which means we do all the cleaning and everything else on site. Some places are only drop stores where customers drop off their clothes, and then they still have to send them to another place to get cleaned. So, that's something that we pride ourselves on, is sticking to the old school ways of doing things, which you don't often see anymore," he said.

Another aspect of the business that has kept their customers coming back again and again is the Toroker family's commitment to building a community and connection with their customers.

"What we do is hard work, but our customers make it so worth it. I have customers who were around when my kids were born, and even ones who gave us baby stuff. They've seen them grow up. I even have a customer who knows my youngest son wants to go to St. Thomas when he starts high school. He's been telling me since day one, 'If he ever wants to go to St. Thomas, just let me know because I'll help him.' It's things like that that make me realize our customers are like family," he said.

STRENGTHENING SOUTH FLORIDA'S FUTURE ...

... ONE VISIT TO WASHINGTON AT A TIME

A vibrant regional economy doesn't happen by chance — it's the result of strategic collaboration, investment, and advocacy. One of the most powerful tools in building and sustaining that economy is direct engagement with the federal government. That's why the Greater Fort Lauderdale Chamber of Commerce created the FPL Washington Summit, presented by Nicklaus Children's Health System.

From the expansion of commuter rail east of I-95, to the construction of our long-overdue Federal Courthouse, to the national rollout of United Way of Broward County's Mission United program for veterans — these accomplishments were made possible through persistent outreach and strong relationships with federal lawmakers, the administration and other agencies.

This year's Summit, taking place Oct. 20 to 24, is co-chaired by Mary Adams of The Employee Relations Group and Christine Shaw of Florida Power & Light Company. Our advocacy priorities are being developed under the leadership of Daphnee Sainvil with the City of Fort Lauderdale.

Nearly 85 delegates will travel to Washington, D.C. to advance a new set of critical issues, including:

- A New Starts designation for the Central and South Florida Flood Control System
- Real estate and housing policy reforms related to supply, fair housing, and independent contractor protections
- Improved access to pediatric care through Medicaid directed payment programs and provider flexibility

We'll also continue pressing for long-standing priorities such as:

- Funding for the Port Everglades Improvement Project
- Federal support for a New River rail crossing solution
- Expansion of Pell Grant eligibility
- Extension of clean energy tax credits

As is tradition, the Summit includes a diplomatic reception hosted by a foreign nation's U.S. Ambassador. This year, we're honored to be hosted by Ireland, joining a prestigious list of previous partners including Canada, Brazil, Chile, the United Arab Emirates and Colombia.

Representatives from both sides of the aisle will join us for significant discussions about our priorities and they will give delegates and update on their legislative priorities. One evening, the Chamber will be hosting a legislative reception at Florida House, the only state embassy in Washington, D.C.

Delegates will also enjoy unique cultural and networking experiences — ranging from private museum access and fine dining to a memorable candlelight Capitol tour once again led by former Congressman Ron Klein. A limited number of exclusive tickets will be available for visits to the African American Museum, the White House, and other historic sites.

The FPL Washington Summit is more than a trip — it's an investment in the future of Greater Fort Lauderdale. By showing up, speaking out, and standing together, we ensure our region's voice is heard where it matters most. Join us <https://b.ftlchamber.com/DCSummit>.

BREW ALONG

WHERE THE YACHT CREWS GO

As the Yachting Capital of the World, you expect to see captains and crew out and about in Fort Lauderdale. While the biggest crew influx happens in conjunction with the Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show, yacht professionals can be spotted throughout the year.

A vital part of crew time on land includes unplugging and unwinding before heading out on the next assignment. It's a welcome reprieve from the 24/7, always-on customer service focus demanded at sea. So it's no surprise that the places yacht crews gravitate to here for fun are typically off the beaten path. They seek out places where the vibe is relaxed, the drinks are ice cold, and the food is delicious.

If you're in need of a similar break, here are two favorite spots where crews and locals gather to renew and recharge.

LauderAle Brewery & Tap Room

Tucked away in a marine industrial warehouse district in the heart of Port Everglades, LauderAle Brewery & Tap Room bills itself as "hard to find, easy to drink." It's an accurate motto, and more than worth the effort to discover.

Walking into the 1,100-square foot outdoor beer garden is like going to a friend's backyard barbecue – if your friend had hand-crafted brews on tap, food trucks in their driveway and live music keeping you entertained. Every element at LauderAle is infused with a laid-back, local vibe. It's pet-friendly and consistently ranked as one of the best craft breweries in the city.

Joey Farrell III and Kyle Jones are the co-founders of LauderAle. Both are Fort Lauderdale natives and longtime friends with a shared appreciation of craft beer. Leveraging their business acumen and curiosity, the pair was among the first in Fort Lauderdale to embrace the craft beer movement. Their goal wasn't just to brew great beer. They wanted to create a full experience that offered an escape from daily life.

LauderAle isn't Farrell's only local business. As CEO of Resolve Marine, Farrell leads his team in marine emergency response, wreck removal and environmental remediation. Resolve was first on the scene in 2024 after the deadly cargo ship collision that caused Baltimore's Francis Scott Key Bridge to collapse.

Riverside Market and Cafe

Riverside Market and Cafe is another spot that welcomes you like an old friend and invites you to relax. Inside you'll find overstuffed sofas and communal tables made for conversation. Teak chairs and picnic tables make for great, pet-friendly gathering spots outside.

Riverside offers more than 550 craft beers, the largest selection in South Florida. But what makes Riverside stand out is its unique self-service approach. Help yourself to a wide selection of bottled craft beer in the coolers, then bring your empties to the counter and pay before you go. This self-service honor system is a big part of Riverside's funky charm. So is the food. It's affordable, tasty, and plentiful.

Riverside offers an approachable and relaxing vibe at all four of its locations. But the original location in Sailboat Bend at 608 S.W. 12th Ave. is the most fun to discover. Accessible via swing bridge, it's the definition of off the beaten path. Your experience begins before you even walk through the door of the building's unassuming façade.

2025 TRIM NOTICES

LOOK FOR YOUR PROPOSED TAX NOTICE TO ARRIVE IN AUGUST BY MAIL

The Broward County Property Appraiser's Office mails the TRIM (proposed tax) Notices in August of each year. This is NOT a tax bill but shows your property's 2025 Just/Market Value, exemptions, and proposed taxes as set by the taxing authorities listed on the notice. The TRIM Notice is your opportunity to review your 2025 Just/Market Value and ensure you are receiving all the tax-saving exemptions you are eligible for.

Florida statutes require our office to use Jan. 1 as the date of assessment each year. Our office must consider changes in market conditions — up or down — when developing the Just/Market Values each year. The 2025 Just/Market Values are based on the market data from 2024 with Jan. 1, 2025, as the date of assessment.

The Property Appraiser's Office does not set or collect property taxes. If you have questions about the proposed tax rates listed on your TRIM Notice, you must contact the taxing authorities or attend their public hearings. The contact information and public hearing dates for the individual taxing authorities are listed to the right of each agency's name on the TRIM Notice.

I Recently Applied for Homestead Exemption – Why Is It Not Showing on my TRIM?

Florida statutes require our office use Jan. 1 to determine exemption eligibility each year. If you purchased your home after Jan. 1, 2025, you are eligible for 2026 Homestead Exemption. The 2026 exemptions will show online at web.

bcpa.net in December and be included on your TRIM Notice for the 2026 tax year.

I Had Homestead Exemption Last Year – Where Did My Exemptions Go?

If you purchased your home in 2024, you may have “inherited” the previous owner's exemptions last year. These 2024 exemptions were removed at the end of 2024 and therefore are not reflected on your 2025 TRIM Notice. You can still late file for 2025 Homestead and any other exemptions you may qualify for until Sept. 17, 2025. To apply online, please visit our website at <https://web.bcpa.net/bcpaclient/#/Homestead> or scan the QR code below.

I Am a Senior Citizen – Why Isn't the Senior Exemption Showing?

The Senior Exemption is both an age and income-based exemption which must be applied for by the property owner because of the income requirement. To be eligible for this exemption, an applicant must be age 65 or older as of Jan. 1, 2025, and have a 2024 adjusted household gross income not exceeding $37,694. If you believe you qualify for this additional exemption, you can still late file for this year until Sept. 17, 2025. To review the Senior Exemption requirements and to apply for this exemption online, please visit our website at <https://web.bcpa.net/bcpaclient/#/SeniorExemption>.

SHAKEN OR STIRRED?

FORT LAUDERDALE BARTENDERS MIX THINGS UP

WRITER MADELAINE K. BOYER • PHOTOGRAPHER DIEGO MALDONADO

Fort Lauderdale nightlife offers a great mix of options for every kind of night owl looking to paint the town red. From intimate restaurants to lively bars and crowded clubs, there is something for everyone, no matter what kind of nighttime excursion you're after. However, if you've always wished you could go to a place like the watering hole in Cheers, where you feel like family and everybody knows your name, then look no further than these bars and restaurants in Fort Lauderdale. Each spot offers something special for its guests, but it's each establishment's bartenders who keep patrons coming back again and again.

TAYLOR AUMENT

Head Bartender at Boathouse at the Riverside

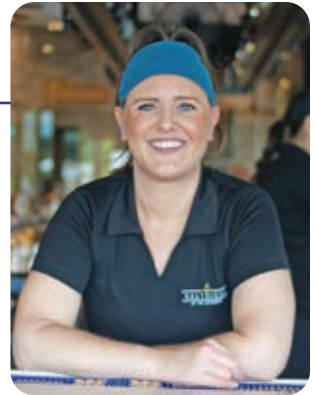

The Boathouse at the Riverside's head bartender, Taylor Aument, hadn't always pictured herself working in the hospitality industry. But her love of connecting with people and a desire to try something new pushed her to leave behind her career as an aesthetician and become a bartender.

"I always loved talking to people, and sales is my strongest trait. So, I couldn't be happier with my choice I made to switch," she said.

Now, 11 years later, she has become a fan favorite among patrons who frequent The Boathouse at the Riverside. Yet even after doing this for over a decade now, her favorite part of the job remains the same — the people and that no two days are the same.

"I love that every day is something new, seeing new faces and familiar ones. It's a very fast paced but rewarding career, and every shift I work is always exciting and fun. I love every day I come to work and get to see my second family," she said.

The best part for this longtime bartender, however, is getting the chance to get creative with cocktails like her favorite summer cocktail, which is the Boathouse's spin on a classic daiquiri. "It's refreshing and easy to drink, which is perfect for summer!" she said.

SUMMER COCKTAIL RECIPE

The Boathouse Daiquiri

- 2 ounces of orange rum
- 1 ounce of simple syrup
- 1 ounce of lime juice with a squeeze of an orange

Shaken and served straight up in a coupe glass

ALEX GIAMBERSIO

Bartender at Big City Tavern

Alex Giambersio's career in bartending started a while back when he was in high school working as a barback at Flanigan's. Before long and once he was of legal age to serve alcohol, he moved up through the ranks and knew he had found his calling.

Today, he is a bartender at Big City Tavern, which is often touted as one of the main reasons guests keep coming back to the restaurant night after night. From his attention to detail and his talent for getting to know his customers and their favorite drink orders, he is for sure a standout.

In fact, getting to see his regulars stop in is his favorite part of the job. "A lot of my regulars, I consider family friends. That's what's made this job so special for me. I've been so blessed to meet so many incredible people over the years, and they've helped me in so many ways," he said.

As for which cocktails he enjoys making most, he's partial to the classic espresso martini, which he's become an expert at whipping up on Martini Mondays but his new favorite summer cocktail is a bourbon and prosecco peach sour. "It's got a great balance of sweet and tart refreshing notes while not hiding the bourbon. Being a classic old-fashioned fan, it's a great change for the hotter months," he said.

ALEX'S FAVORITE COCKTAIL RECIPE

Espresso Martini

- 2 ounces vanilla vodka
- 2 ounces coffee liqueur
- 2 ounces fresh Italian espresso

Shaken until frothy

Garnished with three coffee beans

SUMMER COCKTAIL RECIPE

Bourbon and Prosecco Peach Sour

- 2 ounces of your favorite bourbon
- 1.5 ounces fresh lemon and lime juice
- 1 ounce peach puree

Shaken, then topped with prosecco

Garnished with mint and lemon

McCALLA DEL FRISCO

Bartender at The Fitz Bar and Lounge

Before working as a bartender, McCalla Del Frisco worked as a longtime cocktail server at Grille 401 on Las Olas.

When Grille 401 was sold, the new owner decided to open Pompano Beach House, which is where Del Frisco was offered a chance to switch things up and learn the ropes as a bartender.

“The new owner thought I’d be a great addition behind the bar, so I started training,” she said. Today, she shows off her skills crafting cocktails as a bartender at The Fitz Bar and Lounge.

But what she loves most, however, is the genuine relationships she builds with guests. “Over time, many of them have become close friends, which I think is one of the most unique and rewarding aspects of being a bartender. It’s a rare kind of connection you don’t often get in other jobs,” she said.

When it comes to cocktails, though, she has a lot of favorites she’s made over the years. But one stands out as a summer favorite. “It’s hard for me to choose a favorite cocktail because I genuinely like everything. But lately, I’ve been liking this split cocktail I’ve been making. It’s well balanced and has a little something for everyone,” she said.

SUMMER COCKTAIL RECIPE

Good Ol' Charleston

- 1 ounce mezcal
- 1 ounce blanco tequila
- .5 ounce Ancho Reyes Chile Liqueur
- .5 ounce Aperol
- 1 ounce pineapple juice

Shaken over ice, then strained

EAST MEETS WEST

UKIAH BLENDS JAPANESE AND BBQ

WRITER MADELAINE K. BOYER

Fort Lauderdale is home to some incredible restaurants run by world-renowned chefs offering up many noteworthy menu items from around the globe. But UKIAH Japanese Smokehouse has cracked the code for creating a unique dining experience unlike any other in an already bustling restaurant scene.

From the moment you walk in, everyone is in a constant state of motion. Between the numerous tables of diners eating, drinking and chatting, and the servers moving seamlessly about the restaurant without missing a beat, there is so much going on. It can almost feel overwhelming, but before it even gets to that point, a friendly and welcoming face behind the host stand cuts through the noise to escort you to your table.

Nestled within a 4,000-square-foot space with lots of natural wood elements and moody lighting, many of their tables offer stunning views of the riverfront through the many floor-to-ceiling windows. But while the decor of the restaurant is a sight to behold, UKIAH's menu, created by award-winning chef and owner Michael Lewis, offers an expansive list of culinary adventures meant to entice all types of foodies.

Much like the atmosphere, the sheer number of options can feel daunting at first. But just then, servers such as guest favorite, Angel, swoop in to help break down the menu and offer tailored suggestions including which cocktails pair best with each item of your choosing. The best part, however, is that everything is meant to be shared, so everyone gets a chance to partake in each dish.

To start, their So Fresh and So Green cocktail with Hendricks gin, green pea, ginger, lemon and a scallion tincture offered a refreshing taste sensation that complements appetizers like the light avocado salad with house-made feta, baby herbs, lemon, ginger and crispy leeks. However, that same cocktail with its bright citrusy notes also provides a delicious balance that cuts through the rich fattiness of their enticing crispy shrimp made with chili butter and gorgonzola to mimic the unctuous flavor of buffalo sauce.

For the next course, which featured some of their heartier items like the pork and shiitake mushroom gyoza with a black pepper ponzu and the crispy baby back ribs, the Purple Rain cocktail made with purple Shiso-Ube infused 8000 Generation Shochu, Gran Gala orange liqueur and lemon was an excellent counterpart. The earthy, sweet flavor of the ube sang when paired with the orange liqueur and lemon, which was only further enhanced when sipped on after taking a bite of the umami-rich gyoza that quite literally burst with savory flavor when bitten into.

The same can be said for the sweet baby back ribs, so tender that the meat fell effortlessly off the bone. Similarly to the citrus found in the purple rain cocktail, adding a drizzle of lemon over the ribs heightened the flavor profile and brought out the sweetness even more, along with the underlying tinge of smokiness from the white oak they were grilled over. But of course, no meal is complete without dessert, and UKIAH delivers with a variety of Asian American fusion desserts.

Of the many mouthwatering options, however, there are a few that stand out among the rest, like the fluffy mango custard served with a lemongrass and lychee sorbet, which is a delightful way to end such a rich and indulgent meal.

No matter what you order at UKIAH, getting to taste each dish was truly an exceptional experience that was rivaled only by the next bite of the next dish to come. 🍴

ARTWORK

FIG ON THE RIVER

Editor's note: Once again, Riverwalk Fort Lauderdale invited artists to submit their original artwork depicting Fort Lauderdale's Riverwalk. This year, 15 talented local artists submitted 18 different pieces in a variety of categories, including mixed, composition, photography, art and tech, and more. Here is a closer look at our third-place winner.

Inspiration for this piece of art

I have admired this charming gazebo for years. In the evenings it is common to see romantic couples hanging out there. Newly married couples have used it for weddings and as a place for a special photo session. I had planned on painting this gazebo after dark with a bride and groom in it or a romantic couple. When taking photos of the gazebo I brought my visiting NYC daughter and her long-haired golden dash hound Fig along. After seeing some photos of them I changed my mind. So here is Fig on the River with his owner in the daytime. Quite a turnabout from my original plans. Such is art!

There was always going to be a Water Taxi in the painting no matter who or what the other subjects were. I love the Water Taxi and it is an important part of Riverwalk and Fort Lauderdale.

Tell us a bit about your creative journey

I come from a family of artists. All five of my siblings have talent. One was a well-known canine and equine watercolor artist, another involved in world-class flower arrangements, my brother designed and made holiday bubble lights, and another sister designs and makes beautiful southwestern jewelry. Two of my daughters are also artists. One is getting a degree in interior design and is a wonderful artist herself and another is a graphic artist in the TV/film industry.

As a child in school, I excelled in art class but for a variety of reasons and responsibilities I put my artistic side asleep for a long time. It was not until I had retired, and the pandemic hit that I was able to refocus and let my imagination loose when we were all hunkered down at home. Many thanks to my terrific art teacher Peter Olsen for guidance and helping me understand the many personalities of oil paints. Without him and his encouragement I never would have gotten this far. Most of all big thanks to my husband for his "you do you Mary" attitude! Never once has he rolled his eyes. At least on the outside! 🐶
